I am a freelance video professional based in the San Francisco area. My emphasis is on storytelling and working closely with associates to get the best product possible. I excel at working within technical constraints while providing the creative and management tools necessary to complete projects on time and within budget.

I am able to set up and operate a wide variety of both studio and portabe video production equipment. I am familiar with a variety of computer graphics systems, VTR's, audio mixers, video server hardware, routers, controls, and signal monitoring equipment. I am able to review and edit on-air text for effective composition and accuracy. I am able to measure and maintain signal strength and quality throughout production, recording and cablecast. I have an excellent knowledge of Final Cut Pro, Avid, Adobe Photoshop & After Effects, DVD Studio Pro, MS Word & Excel, Windows 2000/XP, and Apple computer platforms.

I have helped to produce numerous videos for many Bay Area corporations. I can provide a diverse range of abilities to your team. I have very good references; and I am quite flexible in my requirements and availability.
